

Note from the Editor-in-Chief

‘Entrepreneurial Business and Economics Review’ (EBER), as a multi-disciplinary and multi-contextual journal, is dedicated to serve as a broad and unified platform for revealing and spreading economics and management research focused on entrepreneurship, individual entrepreneurs as well as particular entrepreneurial aspects of international business and international economics. It attempts to link theory and practice in different sections of economics and management by publishing various types of articles, including mainly research articles, but sometimes also conceptual papers and literature reviews. Our geographical scope of interests include Central and Eastern Europe (CEE) and emerging markets, however we also welcome articles beyond this scope if they deal with our focus.

Starting from 2019 we decided not to publish thematic issues of our journal and not to divide articles into ‘Thematic Articles’ and ‘Other Articles’ sections. Currently, we decided to publish all articles on the first-come, first-served rule, regardless their topics, if they meet our aim and scope. It is worth reminding that EBER accepts the articles from the following fields:

- Entrepreneurship and Business Studies, in particular entrepreneurship and innovation, strategic entrepreneurship, corporate entrepreneurship, entrepreneurship methodology, entrepreneurial orientation and organizational behaviour, entrepreneurial management, entrepreneurial business, management methodology, modern trends in business studies and organization theory, policies promoting entrepreneurship, innovation, R&D and SMEs, education for entrepreneurship,
- International Business and Global Entrepreneurship, especially international entrepreneurship (IE), new trends in international business (IB), IB methodology, teaching IB, international management, international marketing, global strategy, emerging markets, European business,
- International Economics and Applied Economics, in particular the role of entrepreneurship and the entrepreneur in the economy, international economics including the economics of the European Union (EU) and emerging markets, as well as Europeanization, economies of the region of Central and Eastern Europe (CEE), new trends in economics, economics methodology.

Currently, EBER is indexed in numerous international databases, among others our journal is on the coverage list of Scopus® (Elsevier) and EconLit® (American Economic Association), what is more we are indexed in ESCI Web of Science Core Collection® (Clarivate Analytics). EBER provides immediate open access to its content on the principle that making research freely available to the public supports a greater global exchange of knowledge.

We do hope that the articles presented in this issue will inspire further research. Moreover, we would be happy to publish the results of future studies in the upcoming issues of our Journal. We invite you to participate in our academic conversation.

On the behalf of the Editorial Board, I would like to give my special thanks to all people involved in the editorial and publishing process, first of all to all authors and reviewers, but especially copy editors and proofreaders as well as the layout editor and the DTP specialist.
